POISON.

Malarial Poison.

Gentlemen-Last August a year ago (1883) my wife was attacked with malarial poison. She was reduced to a skeleton. She could not eat anything. I sent her away from home in hopes of benefiting her, but she was so low that she was confined to her bed nearly all the time. At this juncture I commenced treating her with Swift's Specific. She began to improve rapidly under this treatment, and soon she was free of all malarial troubles, and her appetite was completely restored. She only-took about one dozen bottles. So great is her faith in S. S. S., she says she believes it would almost raise the fead. I myself know that the effect of S. S. S. in her case was marvelous, I say miraculous.

EDITOR NATIONAL REPUBLICAN; If on the 1st day of this month it had been announced that the smallpox or choiera in spidemic form existed in the city it would not have created the same fear and despair with that class of cierks below the fourth grade and those dependent on them for a living as the action of the civil service commission has caused by their proposed examinations of clerks for promotions. If the examinations could commence with the fourth class and go upward, honestly and impartially, and the unfit incumbents be dismissed, the public would be greatly benefited, no doubt. But this order commences with the third class and goes downward. The pretense is to weed out the drones. There is no man of either party that wants unfit clerks kept in office unless it is men who have worn themselves out by long and honest service, and no honest man of either party that wants to see such clerks turned out. The head of every bureau, if he is fit for the position—and if he is not be should be promptly dismissed—knows who of his clerks fail in duty, and he should at once report such clerks for dismissal, and I am very sure that the public would rather trust the heads of the bureaus than the civil service commissioners for fair impartiality. If places are wanted for Democrats who have spent the winter roasting their shins waiting for civil service to make pepholes to slip them in. Turn out that class of clerks, and if report be true. a large class, that have no family to care for, and who month by month anticipate their pay by patronizing one of the numerous sharks of the city, who discount the clerks pay at 10 per cent. per month. It would greatly benefit the service and the morals of the city if that class of clerks were not only out of office, but out of the city. And the removal of that class of clerks were not only out of office, but out of the distrebed by examination. EDITOR NATIONAL REPUBLICAN: If on the 1st of impecunious or rich Democrats if oreferred, quite chough, I should think, to satisfy even the hunger of the Democratic civil service commissioners.

It will not be the crass of clerks above named that will be disturbed by examination. They, as a rule, have a liberal education, and have brass enough to be used on a monkey. That class will get the promotions. It is the old, faithful, and honest clerks who think of nothing but doing their duty in the line of duty assigned them, and probably in the ten, twenty, or thirty years of their service never had any need of understanding three-fourths of the questions that they will now be required to answer. They will be questions outside of the duties required of them, It is a fraud on the honest clerk, and such a frand that, if perpetrated on even the mule, would be amenable under the law for the punishment of cruelty to animals.

Take the class of clerks that will be affected by this civil service order, outside of the vagabond class before spoken of, and there are no worthier clitzens in the District, and none so belpices. They are engaged in some branch of civil service; they aim to master the duties in that particular branch. Under the pledge of the President they expected no other test to be required of them than to do their duty, and and few of them, I fear, will be able to answer the questions asked, for the questions will be ordered to make vacancies. These people have families, fathers, mothers, or invalid brothers or siters to care for, and after a few years service in the departments here they are entirely unfitted for any other business. They, as a class, are worthy and entitled to the sympathy of all good people, and this very hopeless condition if they lose the office will greatly contribute to a failure in these examinations to fill vacancies would keep the cierks until for duty most of the time if continued.

There is nothing so despised by all honest men as dishonest preteness. Judas, after kissing the Saviour's day on earth.

A Practical Invention.

The tendency of combining practical benefits with our efforts for comfort is quite strik-The tendency of combining practical benefits with our efforts for comfort is quite strikingly illustrated by a patent granted a few days ago to Dr. J. W. Schoenecker, the well-known hydro and electropath, of No. 716 Tweifth street northwest, for an apparatus materially improving and changing the system of in-door bathing. The apparatus consists of a combination of the Russian for steam). Turkish, and Roman for hot air), the electric, and shower baths in one single. Ingeniously constructed bath, which concentrates all their essential advantages while avoiding their objectionable features. The changes resulting from this invention in the present form of the application of Russian or Turkien baths will remove the objections to them heretofore urged by those fearing weakening effects, as they can readily be taken now by the weakest invalids without insonvenience. The apparatus admits of the use of sulphur, pipe, tan, or any substance horetofore used in medicated baths, and its simplicity will make its general introduction into private houses as well as large public establishments possible. The new Mexican legation building, now in course of erection is this city, will contain a bath room constructed on Dr. Schoenecker's plan, and negotiations are pending for the introduction of these baths during the present summer at some of the most fashionable of the castern watering places.

A MODERATE MARKET. No Great Activity Displayed in Yester-

Buying orders were moderate, but the demand to cover short sales were noticeably less than to cover short sales were noticeably less than for the past few days. There was a disposition shown to single out a fow favorite stocks, while the general list became quiet and with very little movement.

The opening was firm, with first prices generally from ½ to ½ per cent, above yesterday's closing figures. There was an active market in which further advances were made in the first few minutes, but the advantage was not maintained, and prices in most of the list retired to below opening figures. By 10 clock the highest figures of the day generally were reached. A moderate reaction followed, but buying was reserved toward the close, which was quiet but firm, generally near the best prices of the day.

The Seven Advantages of the New York Life Insurance Company's Nonferfeiting Tontine Limited Endowment Policy.

Do not Insure until you have seen full particulars of this Policy. Do not fail to write the nearest AGEST AT ONCE. FACTS AND FIGURES.

FACTS AND FIGURES.

1. The New York Life was the first company, and for thirty-five years the only Company to comit from its policies the clause making them void in case of suicide. Very few companies do it now. Being convinced that most suicides are the result of insanity, and that many cases of accidental death and murder cannot be distinguished from suicides, the New York Life adopted, in 1850, one rule for all—manely, the prompt payment of every claim not vitiated by evident fraud.

2. The New York Life was the first company to recognize the policy-holder's right to paid-up insurance, in case of a discontinuance of payment of premiums, by originating and introducing, in 1860, the first non-forfeiture policies—the beginning of the modern non-forfeiture system—which has become a part of the insurance statutes of the country. On the present volume of business the saving to policy-holders, by reason of the non-forfeiture system—which has become a part of the insurance statutes of the country. On the present volume of business the saving to policy-holders, by reason of the non-forfeiture principle, as originated and introduced by New York Life, is over five untillion dollars per year.

3. The New York Life issues a greater variety of policies than any other life company, thereby adapting its contracts to the largest number of people. It has lately perfected a return-premium feature, under which many of its policies are issued with guaranteed return of all premiums paid, in addition to the amount originally insured, in case of death during a specified periad.

4. The returns on the New York Life's Tontine Policies that have matured have been larger than those of any other company (whether Tontine or Ordinary, comparison being made between policies taken at same age and premium rate, and running through the same period of time.

5. The policies of the New York Life, as now issued, are notably free from restrictions as to occupation, residence, and travel, and claims are paid upon receipt and approval by the Compan
